

open minded. It's for the people who think out of the box. Life is full of challenges. I don't focus on challenges. Each challenge I see as an opportunity. Without challenges, you cannot grow. I look at challenges as an opportunity to grow. They are an opportunity for people who focus on their goals, and people who are motivated to grow."

Shami's dedications to his business and his passion have led him to where he is today.

"The best advice I ever received was from my business partner John McCall. 'If you fall, get up and run again.' Determination makes a successful businessman. There is no secret formula. The harder you work, the more successful you are. If you believe in it, do it now. Don't postpone anything. Start today and work hard and don't wait. Follow your dreams. Follow your passion. And if you want it so bad, it will happen. It might take longer, but you can get there."
